Hey!

This fall I am looking for an internship where I can continue to develop my skills within UX/UI design with the added bonus of continuing to code.

I have a broad knowledge and have getting my hands dirty in a lot of different areas. I have a background in Web design/Web development and now I'm studying the world of mobile at Hyper Island. My passion for the user and UX/UI design has significantly grown from my time at Hyper Island and I see this field as a good fit for me in the future.

I have an eye for design, strong comprehension of code and I'm a team player.
